 - b. DoD Instruction 5120.4, DoD Newspapers and Civilian Enterprise Publications.
 - c. DoD "Principles of Information.
 - d. ED 15-1, Public Affairs Organization and Policies.

This Directive replaces ED 15-8, dated 2 May 1995.

6. Responsibilities.

a. The Deputy Commander in Chief, USEUCOM:

(1) Provides operational direction to the ES&S Commander/Publisher.

(2) Supports ES&S operations, throughout the theater of operations, as a Category B Non-Appropriated Fund Instrumentality (NAFI).

(3) Provides implementing USEUCOM regulations and guidance in accordance with DoD directives.

(4) Selects the ES&S Commander/Publisher from nominees provided by the Military Services.

(5) Approves the selection of the ES&S Editor.

(6) Establishes and maintains the ES&S Advisory Board (Appendix A).

b. Chief of Staff, USEUCOM, chairs the ES&S Advisory Board (Appendix A).

c. The Director, Public Affairs, USEUCOM is the Staff Proponent for ES&S matters.

d. Commanders-in-Chief, Component Commands:

(1) Provide administrative and logistical support to ES&S in accordance with Service regulations governing support of Non-Appropriated Fund (NAF) activities.

(2) Transport and distribute the newspaper to component personnel during maneuvers or contingency operations.

(3) Provide members for the ES&S Advisory Board (Appendix A).

7. General Policy. The ES&S operates in accordance with DoD Directive 5122.11.

a. Editorial policy follows DoD "Principles of Information," DoD Directive 5122.11, and ES&S Editorial Principles and Guidelines.

APPENDIX ACharter for the European Stars and Stripes (ES&S)
Advisory Board

A-1. The European Stars and Stripes (ES&S) Advisory Board assists the DCINCEUR by providing advice and input about ES&S to promote organizational growth and mission accomplishment.

A-2. ORGANIZATION AND MANAGEMENT

A-2.1. The ES&S Advisory Board is chaired by the USEUCOM Chief of Staff.

A-2.2. The ES&S Advisory Board includes the USEUCOM Director, Public Affairs, the ES&S Commander/Publisher; and two representatives from each Component Command. Representatives from the Armed Forces Information Service (AFIS) and Pacific S&S may attend ES&S meetings and have their observations included in the minutes.

A-2.3. The ES&S Advisory Board meets semi-annually. The meeting may be open to community members and locations rotated at the discretion of the USEUCOM Chief of Staff.

A-3. FUNCTIONS

A-3.1. The ES&S Advisory Board monitors planning and execution of ES&S mission objectives and service to DoD members in the USEUCOM theater. It is not involved in editorial or business matters, but is designed to provide component and audience input about ES&S operations to the ES&S leadership.

A-3.2. The Advisory Board makes recommendations about ES&S operations to the DCINCEUR. Board recommendations concerning the worldwide Stars and Stripes will be forwarded via the DCINCEUR to AFIS.

A-3.3. The Board assists the ES&S Commander/Publisher with contingency planning and evaluation of external factors which impact operations, including changes in force levels, economic conditions, and projected deployments and realignments.
